Three gifts

The spirit of Christmas is brought out in this photograph of the new gazebo on Wilmington Common, taken from under the town Christmas tree. The gazebo, the tree, and the common were all gifts to the town. The First Baptist Church of Wilmington has received permission to sing Christmas carols at the gazebo, on the evening of December 23.

Shut down Browns Crossing?

It's elementary

The possibility exists that Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE) may shut down Wilmington's Browns Crossing well fields.

The well field has been serving the town for 49 years. It is the same wellfield, but there are now wells which are four inches in diameter, instead of two and one-half. The wells go down 86 feet.

The pumping station has been there since 1928. There is a single toilet, in that pumping station, for the convenience of the station engineer. It is that toilet to which the DEQE objects. It should not be, they say, within 400 feet of any of the wells.

The State Department of Public Health approved of the set up, and has approved of it for years. Now it seems, it is no longer valid.

DEQE also objects to the fact that there is a gas tank, in the well field area - one that has been there almost 50 years.

Nothing can be within 400 feet of the wells. That is the ruling. It is relatively new.

Nothing has been said of the 1776 House, nor of the two houses on each side, belonging to Ethel Williams and Ralph Knight.

All three of those homes are within the 400 foot distance of the Browns Crossing Wells, and have been for the past 50 years.

The Wilmington Water Department has several well fields. The total water produced in a day amounts to about 3,000,000 gallons. Of those 1.5 million gallons comes from the Browns Crossing well field.

The Swain School in Wilmington will remain as an elementary school.

The decision was reached by the Wilmington School Committee on Monday evening, on a recommendation by Superintendent of Schools Walter Pierce.

There had been some discussion in recent weeks of a proposal to use the school for overflow from the high school. Parents from the Central District area organized and presented a petition with 370 signatures, asking that the school be kept as an elementary facility.

The Swain School, built in 1914 at a cost of $30,000, was used as the high school until the present building was built in 1950.

Wilmington Center Committee to be formed

Pumping station contract signed

The third of seven contracts for the construction of a sewer system to reach North Wilmington was signed recently by Town Manager Sterling Morris and Harold L. Lotto, president of the Cabot Construction Co. Inc. of Lexington.

The contract calls for the construction of a sewer pumping station near Gearty and Pilcher streets, in North Wilmington. The contract price is $220,050. The station will be a part of the sewer main from Silver Lake to Ballardvale Street, North Wilmington.

Electric motors will be used to provide power for pumping. There will be stand-by 60 hp diesel generators, to provide power in event of emergency.

A committee to steer the future of Wilmington Center is being formed.

Selectman Madelyn McKie, Monday night persuaded the Board of Selectmen to approve the formation of such a committee. They put her in charge of the project, to act as the "129 By-pass Coordinator."

Mrs. McKie said that the relocation of Route 129 should be done in such a way as to benefit the town. She wanted the committee formed so that the town could exercise some leadership in this area.

The only opposition came from Chairman Aldo Cairra.

"I don't know why we don't leave this to the Planning Board, in whose realm it is," he said. He objected to the formation of yet another committee.

Mrs. McKie said that the Planning Board had endorsed the idea. She pointed out that the members of the Planning Board were all working days, but that she, as an unemployed housewife, could put time into the work.

Selectmen to meet twice a month

Beginning in January, the Wilmington Board of Selectmen will meet twice a month. The meetings will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month, at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall.

The decision was made Monday night, in the Selectmen's meeting.

The change was proposed by Selectman Dan Gillis. The only member of the board opposed was Chairman Aldo Cairra.

Rotary awards

Five Wilmington Rotarians were honored last week. They were named Paul Harris Fellows, Rotary's highest award. From left: Ralph Swanson, Meyer Weinberg, Henry Porter, Earle Hamilton, and Ray Fitch.

Mike Weinberg had the word for it

The word comes straight out of the ancient Hebrew - Moz'l Tov. It means Good Luck. Occasionally it is used today, especially by Jewish people.

On December 7th the Wilmington Rotary Club conferred Paul Harris Fellowships upon five of its members, Raymond Fitch, Earle Hamilton, Henry Porter, Ralph Swanson and Meyer Weinberg. This is possibly the only time that the highest honor in Rotary has been conferred to five people at one time, in any Rotary club.

The conferring, of course, was a joyous occasion. President Al O'Connor presided in part, and Governor Claude Hanley, as well as others. At one point President Al made the remark "So Be It."

That happens to be a phrase out of the Fourth Degree, in the Knights of Columbus. Al is a member of the Fourth Degree.

There were others present who understood the significance of Al's phrase, and there were also Shriners present, the Shriners being, in a way, a social equivalent to the Masons that the Fourth Degree is to the Knights.

Where the Knights use the phrase "So Be It," the Shriners say "So Mote it Be."

For a few minutes in Wilmington Rotary the air was filled, softly, with "So Be It" and "So Mote it Be." Various members chuckled over the events taking place.

And Mike Weinberg topped it all. Mike is, of course, of the Jewish faith, and is neither a member of the Knights of Columbus nor of the Masons, but Mike, at an appropriate moment in the awards, softly spoke up to say "Moz'l Tov."

Gravel permit remains tabled

Gravel was a hot potato on Monday night when the Wilmington Board of Selectmen debated a proposal for a gravel pit.

Debate was quite lively, and the parliamentary motions left some people scratching their heads. But when the stones and dirt stopped flying, the permit remained as it had been when the discussion started, tabled.

The proposed gravel pit would be on the Sciarappa farm. The parcel of land involved is on the Andover - North Reading - Wilmington line, not far from Route 125.

The town of North Reading has a well-field in the area, and must take the land surrounding the wells, to protect them. Part of the land to be taken is a piece of the Sciarappa farm. Another parcel of land being taken is owned by the Wilmington Water Department.

The town of North Reading has offered Sciarappa $600 for the land, which is nearly two acres in area. Sciarappa has proposed the gravel pit as a means of recovering some of the money paid in taxes for the land in the 55 years it has been owned by his family.

In addition to the gravel permit needed in Wilmington, the Sciarappas need a gravel permit in Andover.

The Town of North Reading, which will own the land after it is taken by eminent domain, does not care whether the gravel is removed prior to the taking. In fact, if Sciarappa can raise money by selling gravel instead of by taking the Town of North Reading to court, then North Reading would be happy.

The application has had a spinoff effect, as well. The Wilmington Water Department has now expressed an interest in selling the gravel off their piece of land which North Reading will take by eminent domain.

Selectman Dan Gillis was not happy with the water department. Gillis is a man who has long fought gravel operations in Wilmington. He has seen several large areas of town turned into vast moonscapes, left with bare boulders and vast pits.

On the other hand, the selectmen have a good deal of respect for the Sciarappa family. If the town asks for help, the Sciarappas give it, willingly. When the town widened a portion of Andover Street, the family donated land for the job.

Sciarappa has consulted with John E. (Eddie) Deloury for the proposed gravel pit. Deloury has a good reputation as a contractor. He leaves his sites in good condition, with stipulations met.

Deloury made the presentation for Sciarappa at the hearing, held last month. On Monday night, he spoke again for Sciarappa. He has had the job of making the presentations to all three boards of selectmen, Wilmington, North Reading, and Andover.

Monday night's meeting was attended by Sciarappa, Deloury, Sciarappa's son and nephew, and one neighbor, Attorney Joseph Courtney, a resident of Andover Street.

Courtney voiced no objection, but expressed disappointment on there having been no effort made to obtain access to Route 125.

That access to Route 125 proved to be a stumbling block. Selectman Jim Banda said that was one of the questions he had about the proposal.

The debate seemed to indicate that Cairra and Imbimbo would vote in favor of the permit. Imbimbo moved the question, seconded by Cairra.

When the vote was taken, it was two to one, Cairra and Imbimbo for and Banda against.

Some discussion ensued, Cairra mentioning some restrictions. Mrs. McKie then said she had not voted because she had not been at the hearing a month earlier.

Then, some minutes after the vote had been taken and announced, Gillis said that he was voting "no," making the vote a two-to-two tie.

Cairra asked the board what he should do. Was it a tie, did the two-to-one vote carry, or had the question ever been taken off the table.

Banda said that he was challenging the vote.

Cairra ruled that the question was still tabled. He then said that it was probably too late for the Sciarappas, anyway, because the permit probably could not be secured without more time before the land taking. The issue would probably have to be settled in court, he said.

Gillis, then expressing an interest to be fair to the Sciarappas, moved to bring the application off the table. But his motion failed to bring the application off the table.

They found Santa

Santa Claus, these days, is seen pretty regularly at Wilmington Plaza. In fact, he's got his own store, called Santa's Fair. Susan and Sean McNamara visited him there on Monday night.

It is open every night from 6 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wares include flea market items, craft items, gifts, baked goods, and refreshments.

Open season Friday night

Wilmington basketball strives to compete

Last year Coach Bob Milley's Wilmington High basketball team won two games and finished in a tie for last place in the Merrimack Valley Conference with the Methuen Rangers with a record of 2-16.

The WHS coach realizes that it's "tough to compete" - especially when you don't have to cut people from the squad and the team down the road in Chelmsford has 70 kids going out for basketball.

Milley admits that it's tough to generate interest in a sport that has never been much of a success in the win department. "You make the state tournament a couple of years in a row and the people would get excited," says Milley. He hopes the fledgling junior high basketball program can help get the sport of basketball off the ground - and on its way to becoming a competitive force in the MVC.

Milley is optimistic when it comes to this season however. "I'd like to finish in the top four and I'd like to think we can do it," says the Wilmington coach of his team that is backboned by honorable mention MVC stars Tom Stewart and Steve Woods in the backcourt. "I think we'll be interesting to watch with some good close games. I don't think anybody will kill us," forecasts the Wildcat head man.

Bob has six first year players on his 10-man squad. They are forwards Mark Peabody, and Paul Burke, center Art Sugrue, and guards Sal Carbone, Neal Wetzler, and Dave Woods. Senior Randy Foster returns to his forward spot with Dick Dowd another returnee at center.

Bob likes Chelmsford, Andover, and Lawrence this year, saying "we've improved, but so has the rest of the league." He is wary of the Billerica Indians basketball future. Billerica apparently has good size on the freshmen level and coach Ed James may have himself quite a ballclub within the next two years reports the Wildcats' coach.

Wilmington was scheduled to scrimmage Saint Clement's of Somerville Tuesday night at WHS in preparation for Friday night's home opener with Austin Prep. The varsity game starts at 7:30 preceded by the junior varsity tilt at 6 p.m.

The MVC race

It's pick-em' time and the Chelmsford Lions are the obvious choice off what we've seen of them in conference action and in the Tewksbury Summer Basketball League. Tewksbury High coach Dave Mullen calls them the "giants" of the league and that is an apt description as they have good size up front to go along with a solid offense from all five starters.

Chelmsford finished at 12-6 last year and most of that team is back and improved - ready to make a run at the top. Back are Mark Oliver, Pete Thompson, Chip Drapeau, and Pete Lindbom. They accounted for 595 Lion points in 76-77 with Oliver the leader at 225.

Lawrence and Andover figure to battle it out for second (and possibly the top spot with the Lions) with the Lancers sporting two All-Stars in McLain and Morin.

The rest of the conference looks to be a logjam with Central Catholic the real sleeper with a number of unknown quantities coming off the bench for their first year of regular MVC play.

Wilmington has good size and could stage a few upsets before the season is over. Tom Stewart's hustle at guard leads the Wildcats' attack. Billerica lost the entire starting five including the best frontcourt in the conference (Scott, Elmore, and Dagle) and they must rebuild from scratch after last year's championship season.

Austin will be hurt by the loss of guard Ted Coppinger, but they appear to have some good talent on the rise. Methuen should improve slightly.

Carbone set to connect

Wilmington High's Sal Carbone finds himself wide open for a jump shot as Steve Woods moves in too late to defend in a recent practice. The Wildcats begin their 1977-78 MVC season this Friday night (Dec. 16) with a home game against the Austin Prep Cougars.

After an absence of several years, Kenny Palm has returned to the WHS bench as head coach. Palm's Wildcats nipped Tewksbury 3-1 in the MVHL Jamboree at the Billerica Forum Saturday afternoon.

Free throw contest

The Father Croke Council, Knights of Columbus, and the Wilmington Recreation Department will sponsor a free throw shooting contest at Wilmington High School gym on Saturday, December 17 from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

The contest is open to boys and girls from 11 to 14 years of age (as of Nov. 1, 1977) and prizes will be awarded in each age bracket. Entries will be accepted at the high school during the hours of competition.

Wildcat comeback clips Redmen 3-1

Wilmington High hockey coach Ken Palm made a successful return to the MVHL coaching ranks Saturday as his pucksters erased a 1-0 Tewksbury lead in the first period to post a 3-1 win in Jamboree action at the Billerica Forum.

The teams played two periods of hockey that were highlighted by the steady trek to the penalty box by coach John Corbett's club.

Tewksbury jumped to a 1-0 lead at the 3:50 mark of the first period when Fred Carpenito stole the puck and drilled Tewksbury's first shot on net past Wildcat goaltender Scott O'Connell.

Brian Tighe had the best Wildcat opportunity at the 8:40 mark, but Redmen netminder Chuck Barbour turned it aside to preserve the Tewksbury lead.

Wilmington came out and tied the game at the nine second mark of the second period when Mike Carlin rang a shot off the post and past TMHS net-minder Bob Calistro before Jay Walden slammed a score home to make it 2-1 Wildcats at the 6:54 mark.

Tom Gracia scored the third Cat goal at 8:28. Wilmington outshot the Redmen 19-11 with O'Connell, Dave Gordon, and Rick Ballou handling the net work for the Wildcats.

In the other Jamboree tilts Methuen blanked Dracut 2-0, Austin shutout Lawrence 6-0, Central tipped Andover 2-0, and defending champ Billerica got by Chelmsford 3-2. Eachgame was composed of two 12 minute periods.

The MVHL regular season begins this Saturday with Tewksbury traveling to Merrimack College to duel Andover in a noontime start. At the Forum Chelmsford takes on Lawrence at 12:30 followed by Wilmington facing Austin Prep at 2 p.m. Billerica battles Dracut in the 3 p.m. game before Methuen plays Central Catholic in the nightcap at 5 p.m.

Bucko's 8-Blues 1

Bulldogs 7-Leo's Canteen 6

Billy Johnson (two) and Brian

Harvey (two) helped the Bulldogs to a quick lead which they carried into the third period. Then Leo's got hot as Alan Dunlevy's hattrick brought them to within one, but time and goalie Rod Fraser, who made two excellent stops in the final minute, proved to be too much for the Canteenmen.

No. Wilmington Shell 8-Blues 1

Frank McLean had a big night as his four goals and two assists backboned the first year Shellmen to their win over the Blues. Paul Capozzi (two), Joe Bradley and Mark Esposito (one each) contributed to the offense while Jimmy Connors, who lost his shutout in the final minute of play, backboned the defense.

Newton hands Squirt A's first league loss 3-0

Wilmington's Squirt A's traveling team went down to its first Middlesex League loss Sunday as Newton posted a 3-0 shutout. Goaltender Bill Wolfe played a strong game in net, but a sagging Wilmington offense in the third period fired a Newton surge that snapped a 0-0 tie at the 8:05 mark of the final frame. Newton scored two more goals in a three minute span to end the Squirt hopes for a late comeback.

Saturday the Squirts fell 3-1 to a strong Billerica team. Wilmington spotted the smooth skating Billerica club a two goal lead before Dave Richards lit the lamp early in the second period assisted by Lux and Newhouse. Billerica finished off the scoring with a goal in the third period. Wilmington began the week last Wednesday with a 5-4 win over Waltham with Bill Woods scoring the game winner assisted by Dave Fuller at the 4:05 mark of period two. The winners took control early in the first period when Ken Richter stole the puck at center ice and scored a breakaway goal at 10:24 to give his team a 1-0 lead. Waltham tied the game before the end of the first period.

At 11:44 of the second period Bill Woods gave Wilmington a 2-1 lead with help from Dave Buzzell and Don Constantino. Dave Lux upped the lead to 3-1 with the assists going to Dave Richards and Mike Newhouse. Waltham battled back with a power play score and a goal four seconds later that tied the game at 3-3.

Newhouse snapped the tie on assists from Lux and Danny Kane before Woods came up with the game winner to finish off a rough contest.

Scott Poole played his best games of the season over the weekend with some fine backchecking and defensive work. Rob Palmer and Scott Fuller also turned in strong efforts for the Squirt A's.

The next games are December 17 against Nashua, N.H., and Woburn December 18.

Bantam B's rip Winchester 7-2
The Wilmington Bantam B's improved their record to 23-1-1 with a 7-2 win over Winchester Sunday. Wilmington came out flying in the first period to back up the steady netminding of Bill Redler.

Squirt A's clear puck

Wilmington Squirt A defenders hustle to clear the puck from in front of their goaltender as Billerica applies the pressure. Billerica started fast to down Wilmington 3-1 at the WYIA Saturday afternoon.

Billy Robinson opened the scoring before Winchester came back to tie at 1-1. Chuck McNeil, Mike Moran and Mark Deyab pocketed first period goals assisted by Brian McLean, George Boudreau, Deyab, and McNeil to break the game open early 4-1.

In the second period, John Cushing and Darryl MacDonald each scored unassisted to up the lead to 6-1.

In the final stanza Moran scored his second of the game assisted by Brian McLean.

The boys wish Jim Conti and Donny Josephson good luck on the Bantam

Bantam A's lose lead
The Bantam A's fell 7-4 to Reading

last Thursday after taking a 2-0 lead. Rick Zambarnardi scored two goals and had one assist to lead the attack. The other goals were scored by Donny Josephson and Bob Lowney. Assists went to Duggan, Foley, Crimmins, Ford and Conti.

Jeff Lux did a good job in net with 24 saves while the A's could muster only 20 shots themselves.

Winless Newton dropped the A's 3-1 Sunday at the Burlington Ice Palace. Wilmington's lone score came from Joby Duggan assisted by Rick Zambarnardi.

Newton was outshot 30-15 while Jeff Lux had to contend with uncovered Newton players on his doorstep all night.

The A's next game is Thursday at 8:10 p.m. with North Reading at WYIA. Sunday the team travels to Burlington for a 3:30 p.m. game with Woburn.

Squirt B's tie

Wilmington and Bedford battled to a 3-3 tie this past week. Steve Zuccaro scored the first goal of the game on assists by Jay McFadyen and Dante DeMarco before Bedford came back to tie the score to end the first period.

McFadyen scored a short handed goal to give the B's the lead and Bedford again beat the clock - scoring two goals in the last minute of the second period to take the lead. Wilmington showed some third period hustle to knot the score as John McLaughlin scored with assists going to Eric Ouellette and McFadyen. Wilmington goaltender Brian Surrette came up with several good stops.

In a sluggish game last week Wilmington coasted to a 4-1 win over Waltham. The defense of Dave Needham, Steve Hunt, Jeff Brennan, Sean Brennan, Dante DeMarco and Mark Bere along with the goal keeping of Kevin Sutton and Brian Surrette held Waltham in check.

The offense was the John McLaughlin show with two goals and an assist. Chris Athanasia had a goal and an assist. Eric Ouellette accounted for the other Wilmington score. Mike Stuart, Jay McFadyen, Steve Zuccaro and Sean Brennan also had helpers for the winners. Tom O'Reilly came close on a couple of setups in front of the Waltham net.

Sports Notebook

An athlete's Bill of Rights

by Rick Cooke
You get into a delicate area when you start telling parents, teachers, and coaches, that winning or sporting success isn't of primary importance. Young athletes are on the field of play supposedly to have fun, and although many adults refuse to admit it - some of the young people playing sports today aren't exactly enthralled with the idea of competing on an organized level. Recently the National Association for Sports and Physical Education (NASPE) designed a "Bill of Rights for Young Athletes" in an effort to prod parents and coaches in what I think is the right direction.

I became aware of the "Bill" after reading a story written by Ken Denlinger in the Washington Post. He explained the "rights" and I quote him: "the rights are as basic as running and jumping and laughing - and they ought to be chiseled on every playground and gym and in the mind of every adult who dares to call himself a coach." Denlinger describes the rights as something that should be "instinctive" and I couldn't agree with him more. Unfortunately much of that instinct vanished with the diminishing value placed on the "pick up" games. I believe that the nation's young athletes started losing out when they stopped organizing their own games on some sandlot or frozen patch of water and began taking on a more professional outlook with uniforms, schedules, and fans in the stands to root them on and scrutinize the many mistakes that all fledgling athletes make.

Dr. Jerry Thomas of Louisiana State University, Dr. Walt Cooper, of the University of Southern Mississippi, Dr. Rainer Martens of the University of Illinois-Urbana, Dr. Ross Merrick and NASPE leaders from around the country have come up with what I think is a valuable guideline for young athletes. The rights are: The right to an opportunity to participate, the right to participate at a level commensurate with each child's development, the right to have qualified adult leadership, the right to participate in safe and healthy environments, the right to proper preparation for participation in the sport, the right to an equal opportunity to strive for success, the right of each child to share in the leadership and decision-making of his sport participation - and the two rights that are the essence of the Bill's purpose - the right to have fun through sport and the right to play as a child and not as an adult.

Dr. Thomas has written a thoughtful and important book called the "Youth Sports Guide for Coaches and Parents." It includes advice for young athletes and their parents that will hopefully help in a smooth transition as the young athlete becomes an adult and suddenly realizes that playing sports isn't a life or death situation where winning is the only goal.

Thomas made a statement in Denlinger's article that is important if you are an adult deciding whether or not to enter the coaching ranks. "If you can't stand to see errors," says Thomas, "stay away. And especially don't coach. But so often there are no role models for the thousands of volunteer coaches, just Bear Bryant or Lombardi. Even the high school coach may not be a good model on how to deal with kids."

The purpose of the Bill was not to take a shot at organized athletics, but to give groups some logical guidelines to follow (if they so choose). It is important for young people to have some guidelines to follow - as it is just as important for them to have some figures in their favorite activity to look up to. Unfortunately many famous people - both in and out of athletics - fail to see the importance of their positions and deal the kids a raw deal when they shirk certain guidelines and act like children themselves - ala Woody Hayes, the Ohio State head coach who wins while punishing out cameramen on the sidelines during the game and engaging in post game rudeness and profanities with writers.

Having an athletic Bill of Rights probably won't solve that problem - but steering your kids (and potential coaches) clear of Hayes and the Sugar Bowl is a step in the right direction.

Track before Christmas
A simple question - why has

Merrimack Valley Conference track scheduled meets for December 24? - When other sports conferences give their athletes the day before Christmas off for holiday preparation and travel. At least one MVC coach has threatened to forfeit his December 24 meet and another is worried about youngsters who must now weigh their obligation to the team against an obligation to a holiday date with their relatives.

Correction

A picture caption in last week's sports pages incorrectly identified the Bantam B goaltender as Scott Campbell. Campbell does play goal for the Bantam B team - but the boy pictured making the save was Billy Redler.

Teachers help students handle their liquor problems

To drink or not to drink—that is not the question in the Wilmington Alcohol Education Program.

Program Director Pat Gagnon has said, "Our approach rejects the two extremes of 'abstinence for everyone' and 'let's teach everyone to drink.' We recognize the fact that most young people drink and will probably continue to do so, law or no law. The goal of the program is to help youth make responsible decisions in regard to alcohol use or non-use."

Starting in January West Intermediate students will participate in the Grade Eight Alcohol Education program. The program, developed by the Family Life Department and Share, Inc., is entering its second year in the Wilmington schools. C.A.S.P.A.R. (Cambridge-Somerville Program for Alcohol Rehabilitation) was used as a prototype and model for the Wilmington program.

Emphasis is on training Wilmington school personnel. Teachers whose subject areas lend themselves to teaching about alcohol participate in workshops which cover basic concepts and help them prepare alcohol education curricula.

Look at values By the end of the first year, one group of Wilmington teachers had completed alcohol education workshops. It included a junior high group of 10 teachers and counselors. The second group will include high school teachers and will be conducted in January. The purpose will be to examine and analyze their own attitudes and feelings about alcohol and to assess their concerns.

The 15-hour workshops are and friends. designed to allow teachers to "get in touch with their own ideas and attitudes about alcohol and alcoholism." Workshops examine participants' values, practices and experiences. A goal is to sensitize participants to alcoholism as an illness and explain its effects on children.

Teachers learn to define terms associated with alcoholism. They participate in simulations involving alcohol-related situations, and write about their impressions after attending meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous (for alcoholics), Al-Anon (for families of alcoholics), and Alateen (the teenage auxiliary of Al-Anon).

Teachers also develop classroom exercises. One involved having students write and answer "Dear Abby" type letters about drinking problems among their friends and families.

Follow-up workshops will be concerned with defining goals and methods of alcohol education, how to promote responsible decision making, and the role of teachers in dealing with drinking problems of students, students' families

The Family Life Department is assisted by a steering committee which helps provide direction for the program and feedback on how it is working. The committee consists of parents, teachers, school committee members, administrators, clergy, law enforcement officers, youth workers, and students.

Besides in-service teacher training, the program's first year included workshops for community and municipal agencies and groups, and public discussions on the local drinking scene, as well as publicity to create awareness about the drinking problem.

Is the program effective? Program Director Pat Gagnon said that based on pre and post-testing, workshop participants have shown "significant differences in their attitudes, knowledge and behavior" concerning alcohol.

Final results, of course, remain to be seen. As Mrs. Gagnon said, "Ultimately, a measure of the success of the program will be the number of Wilmington young people who, when they drink, will do so without getting drunk or hurting themselves and others."

TMHS sixth bloodline

One hundred and twenty-five students are sought for blood donors when the Tewksbury High School holds its sixth Red Cross Bloodline, December 19 at the school.

The drive is set for the high school gym from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. The program is sponsored by the Social Political Action Class. Chairman is Carolyn Sprague.

The goal is 125 students, but the minimum to be reached to be a success, says the chairman is 100. Last year 88 participated.

On the auction block

You say the kids have been asking for a fire engine for Christmas. Well, it's hardly kids' stuff, but the Town of Wilmington is selling one.

The 1953 International fire engine is one of three vehicles to be auctioned at the Wilmington Highway Department garage on December 28. Also up for auction is the town's old rescue truck, a 1959 Chevrolet four-wheel drive panel truck, and the Fire Department's second ambulance, a 1967 Pontiac.

Below, Highway Superintendent Bob Palmer and mechanic Tom Duggan prepare to "fire up" the engine.

IT'S TIME TO PAY LARZ

Dear Readers:

After more than three years of holding the line the Town Crier must increase single copy prices and subscription rates, effective with the issue of February 1, 1978.

The Town Crier does not absorb the truly staggering increases in the cost of paper and postage which are occurring.

Before making the necessary increase, the Town Crier wants to show its gratitude to the readers for their loyalty to the paper. So, until February 1, renewals will be accepted at the present subscription rates. New subscriptions can also be ordered at present rates until February 1. After that date, the one year local subscription rate will rise from $7.00 to $8.00 (an increase of less than two cents per week). The out-of-town subscription rate will rise to $9.00 and the newsstand price for a single copy will increase to 25 cents.

The Town Crier does not send renewal notices. All subscriptions begin with the calendar year. During the months of December and January the Town Crier offers a savings of $1.00 to those subscribers who renew without being billed. If you must be billed it will cost you $1.00 more, and if you wait until Groundhog Day it will be $1.00 extra. Thus the renewal or new subscription rate for Wilmington or Tewksbury will be $6.00 until February 1 when it will rise to $8.00.

Please use the coupon on this page to renew now and save a buck, twice. We must have your renewal order postmarked by February 1 to offer you these savings.

Bits & Pieces

Well done
The Christmas flea market-fair taking place at Wilmington Plaza (indoors) drew a few brave individuals out into the frigid weather last weekend, and it was worth the effort.

Several individual organizations were represented including Youth Hockey, the Crusaders, Scouts, etc. According to a usually reliable source, Wilmington Senior Citizens will have a table there this weekend.

The event will continue from 6 to 9 p.m. all this week and will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

It is located in the former Elliot's location, near the left end of the plaza.

Santa Claus is there, waiting to have his picture taken with youngsters.

Bird count

Wilmington and 18 other towns and cities will join together for the third time to conduct the International Christmas Bird Count in this area, under the supervision of Frank Tuttle of Carson Ave.

Starting at 8 a.m. on Saturday, bird counters will cover the area in cars and on foot. Those wishing to take part should contact Mark Wilson at 851-7947 in Tewksbury or Mr. Tuttle at 658-8230.

LAND COURT
Middlesex, ss. Case No. 87982
To the Honorable, the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

Respectfully represents Treacy Builders, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation having an usual place of business in Stoneham, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; that it is owner of certain lots of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Wilmington, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

The land in "Silver Lake Gardens," in the Town of Wilmington in the County of Middlesex in the State of Massachusetts, being numbered Lots Eighty-nine (89), ninety (90), ninety-two (92) and ninety-three (93), also including a frame cottage house situate on parts of both lots eighty-nine (89) and ninety (90) on a plan of "Silver Lake Gardens," made by Ernest W. Branch Civil Engineer dated January 14, 1928 and on file in the Middlesex North District Deeds Book 52 Plan 4.

That the record title to said lots of land is clouded by a mortgage given by William J. Finn and Elizabeth A. Finn, to Frederick M. Finn and Mary G. Finn, dated December 5, 1961, and duly recorded Book 1184, Page 192, purporting to secure a note for $20,000 payable in five (5) years, in payment of twenty dollars ($20.00) per month without interest, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unrecorded on and by the record, or not properly or legally discharged of record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage.

That the mortgagor named in said mortgage and those claiming under have been in interrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notice a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20, of the Acts of 1924.
